For the Year of our Redemption, 1707,

(being the Third after Bissextile, or Leap-Year)

Amplified with all Things suitable for such a Work:

A S,

Tables of the Moon's Age, Time of High-water at divers Ports in England, the Sun's Rising and Setting, and of Kings and Queens; likewise of the Latitudes Essential Dignities of the Planets, and of the Nature of the Twelve Signs.

A L S O,

The Diurnal Motions, Conjunctions, and other Configurations of the Heavenly Bodies, Lunations, Eclipses, and Monthly Observations thereupon, both in Prose and Verse; with an Astrological Judgment on the Four Quarters of the Year,

Deduced from

The { Four Cardinal Ingresses of the Sun,
Total and visible Eclipse of the Moon,
Triple Conjunction of Saturn and Mars,
Triple Square of Saturn and Jupiter. }

All faithfully perform'd according to the right Rules of Art.

RICHARD GIBSON, Student in Astrology

Os Homini sublime dedit Cælumq; theri Fussit; & erectos ad Sidera tollere vultus.

L O N D O N :

Printed by Thomas Wither, for the Company of STATIONERS, 1707.

Reader,

I'LL not court thee in the vulgar stile with K
Courteous, Good, or Gentle Reader, for I know what thou may'st be to me, nor how thou standest aff ed to the Subject, and matter in hand: 'Tis an Alman nack and Ephemeris of the Caelestial Motions and Aspects for the Year of our Lord 1707, with rational and well-grounded Predictions, deduced from the Cardinal Ingresses of the Sun, a total Lunar Eclipse the triple Conjunction of Saturn and Mars, and triple Square of Saturn and Jupiter, that I here pre sent the World with; which, if kindly accepted, I (if the Worthy Company of Stationers think fit) be come its Annual Remembrancer, and thereby do utmost I can to serve the Junior Students in this Science, and oblige the more candid Lovers of kind of Speculations. Astrology, in Times past, been in mighty request, and many worthy Persons thought it no Disgrace to be accounted Astrologers but the Ill Management the Art hath met with by of its Mountain Professors, and the idle Innovations obtruded on't by others of them, have made it drop in Reputation with many Ingenious Favourites; there fore it ought to be the Study and Care of its legiti Sons to dispel those Clouds of Error, and clear ancient lustre wherewith it was so illustriously illu minated; and this shall be the Head, Heart and Hand endeavours of a real Admirer of Art and Artists,

Richard Gibson.

The Sea hath us, much like this piddy Age;
 Sometimes she pines, anon she twells with Rage.
 And makes a rupture where she ever flows
 The fertile Banks; yet never further goes,
 (Without a Miracle) than Nature's bounds:
 Or if we think she do, 'tis where some Towns Enroach upon her Interest; for she
 Is full as constant, far more just than we.

Let faithful Loy'lists in this last rejoice,
 That Heav'n was pleas'd to make so good a Choice.
 Let's all join Hearts and Hands, and humbly pray,
 She long may live, the Sceptre still to sway.
 Old Albions Glory, Brittain's brightest Splendour,
 Our English Israel's Christian Faith's Defender.

January, 1707.

Hail, gentle Readers, to my Mute give ear,
 She sings the Actions of this wondrous Year.
 Tells you the two disturbers of our Rest,
 Conjoin, Kingdoms and Nations to molest.
 But Phœbus lends to both his friendly Beams :
 Which (in some measure) modera es exreams.

February, 1777

Alas! poor you, who can recount thy Woes?
 When Force and Fraud so fiercely thee oppose.
 Majestick Sal too, angry Atoms sends,
 To both Maleficks etc the Month it ends:
 Some tow'ring Heroes now in Church or State,
 Are much perplexed with the Frowns of Fate.

April, 1707.

Now weeping April welcome Showers doth bring,
And gives a prospect of a fruitful Spring ;
Unless pale Cinxia's great Eclipse should be,
Some hindrance to desir'd Fertility.
Much Loss at Sea it also signifies.
Piery declines. A famous Lady dies.

May, 1707.

The Beams that now the Heav'nly Host display,
Denote a Windy, Cold, and Rainy May.

Heav'n's glorious Lamp with low'ring Chronus meets Close Combinations their Conjunction greets.
Discord among Grandees it doth declare,
Clouds in Mens Minds so well as in the Air.

Mars here with his Superiour does unite
Both Ev'ning Stars; 'twill be a pleasing fight.
Their difference in Latitude not much,
Makes them almost each other seem to touch.
Furious Contests, with blood-shed, oft ensue,
About Religion, or Pretence thereto.

Stilbon and Mavors here conjoynd are,
And both beheld by fullen Saturn's Square.
Two Years ago near the same place they met,
And did a boist'rous blighting Wind beger.
May no such Storms our peaceful State assail,
Nor Rom's Designs againit us e'er prevail.

Hopeful Conclusions from the azure Sky,
 Treatings for Peace, but holds not long, for why?
Chronus creeps back, with thund'ring Jove falls out
 And bids renown'd Twin-City look about.
 Mighty mutations in the World have been Under the like Configuration seen.

Now the Cœlestial Warriour joyns his Ray
With royal Sol; this shews some bloody fray.
Hermes and Venus too with them combine,
All four in Scorpio, the most treach'rous Sign.
Let prudent Patriots set their Wits at work
To find where Popish plotting Villains lurk.

December, 1707.

As this great Year did with Extreame begin,
(Being by the two Maleficks usher'd in)
So we may boldly this Prediction frame,
Violence and Fury will conclude the same.
Yet would we once our sinful Lives amend,
GOD can prevent those Evils that impend.

Judicium Astrologicum:

O R,

An Astrological Judgment on the Year 1707.

Deduced from

The { Four Cardinal Ingresses of the Sun.
Total and Visible Eclipse of the Moon.
Triple Conjunction of Saturn and Mars.
Triple Square of Saturn and Jupiter. }

All fully and forcibly Operating this Year.

Of the four Cardinal Ingresses.

THE Sun by his Annual Perambulation distinguisheth the Four different Seasons of the Year, by his Ingress into the four grand Cardinal Points of Heaven; which Seasons vary more or less from their general Constitution, according to the various Position of the Heavens and Heavenly Bodies at those Punctilio's: That is the Reason why one and the same Season differs so much one Year from another, for if they depend only on the Declination of the Sun, and Nature of the Constellations, they would never admit of such Variation. Hence it is we presume our Conjectures on the Nature and Production of each Year in general, and each Quarter in particular, both in the Body Natural and the Body Political.

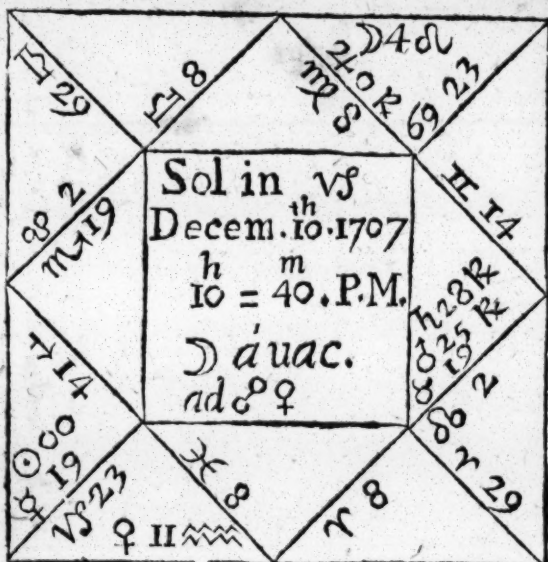

Here we have the two Infortunes in Conjunction in the Seventh House, the Angle of Strife and Contention, both retrograde; the one Lord of the Ascendant, and the other sole Ruler of the third; the Moon is in the Ninth, in opposition to Venus in the third.

Notwithstanding the Season or time of the Year, here is mischief enough presignifi'd this Winter Quarter, many Skirmishes and Rencounters both by Sea and Land;

The Sun being now in his greatest South Declination makes our shortest Day and longest Night.

Hence we judge the State of the Brumal or Winter Quarter, according to the Celestial Position at this time.

Plunders, Rapes and Robberies committed, Surmising and Surprizing each other, making many Tumults, Up- roars, Outcries and Commotions. Nay there are mighty Influences operating this Quarter, and therefore some more than ordinary Matters will be produc'd therein, not only great and superlative Consultations, but also great and superlative Actions and Accidents too. Do we speak without good Grounds in Art, think you? Then consider, that besides the Positions in the Figure, we have a Conjunction of Saturn and Mars, January the Seventh; a Square of Jupiter and Mars the thirteenth Day, and a Square of Saturn and Jupiter the twentiseventh. An Opposition of Jove and Sol, February the third, a Square of Saturn and Sol the fifth, an Opposition of Jove and Hermes the seventeenth, a Square of Chronus and Stilbon the twentieth, a Square of Mavors and Titan the twenty first, and a Platick Square of the two Superiours all the whole Quarter: Nor hath the great Solar Eclipse in May last left us.

Well then you that have any Faith in Starry Energy will not think our Discourse vain Babble, as our babbling Antagonists do; but let those that will afford us no Faith, on the Year 1707.

so kind to allow us a little of their Observation, and then speak without Bias or Prejudice.

The Winter, we fear, will prove a little too Cold and too long for those that are not well provided for it; various Distempers too will invade People, tho' the Trine of Sol and Jove at the Ingress may supply them Necessaries, and move those that are both great and good to a charitable Contribution.

Let Poland, Prussia, Lorrain, Switzerland, and Ireland too, expect to share in the Misfortunes signifi'd by the Conjunction of Saturn and Mars, in the Seventh House, in Taurus.

The Sun now touching the Eastern Equinox, makes the Days and Nights equal to all parts between the Tropicks.

From hence we judge the State of the Vernal or Spring Quarter in all its Circumstances.

By the Vogue of all the Ancients that were most learned in the Nature and Constitution of the Heavens, the Sun was placed in the first Punctum of this first Sign of the Zodiac at the Creation; therefore Astrologers, with good Reason, make the Position of Heaven at his return thereunto every Year, the prime Pillar on which they build their Annual ingressive Judgment: Both Reason and Experience vouches the Truth of the Assertion, for seeing the grand Architect of Heaven and Earth provided the Zodiac as a Tabernacle for that great and glorious Body to move in, where should he begin the Race assigned him, but in the first Minute thereof. Experience harps on the same String, and tells us that when the Sun comes to this equinoctial Point, he not only equalizeth the Day and

Night and begins to make our Days exceed the Nights in length, but also things increase and fructifie, the Trees and Fields grow Green, the Birds sing, and all Creatures rejoyce at his Arrival; add to this our Astrological Experience, and that truly informs us that according to the Position of Heaven at that time, such are the Actions and Accidents of the ensuing Year in general, but more particular of the Spring Quarter.

Here we have a Platick Square of the two superiour Planets, and an Opposition of Jove and Venus, else there are few hostile Aspects in all this Quarter; the Man of War seems to play at Bo-peep, and pretends to Peace and Piety; the Sun and Mercury are in Conjunction, and in Sextile to Saturn; Mars and Venus are in Trine: Which Influences tend more to Consultation and Confederate Friendship than Hostility, but we fear that the Energy of the Superiors will Predominate, and the great Aspects in the preceding Quarter may Disembogue themselves in this; and we know it often proves, when most Goodness is discours'd on, most Mischiefe is near.

Saturn in the first House seldom fails of some kind of Trouble and Cauda Draconis on the Cusp of the Seventh House, makes our Enemies Treacherous.

The Italian Princes, and the Switz-Cantons are made very uneasy by the Square of the Superiours.

Now the Sun is mounted his Apogæon, and got to his greatest North Declination, making our longest Day and shortest Night.

From hence we are to judge the State of the Estival or Summer Quarter, at which time the Heavens are thus posited.

In the Brumal Ingress both the Infortunes were in the Seventh; in the Vernal Ingress Saturn was in the first House.

House; and now in this Ingress we have Mars in the Asc. in Leo, a fiery fixed Sign.

Infortunes in Angles, generally make Mischief in the World; they urge the Spleen and Gall to exorbitant Effluvia's stir up Angry and Malicious Inclinations, move Men to Wars, Duels and Discord, prompts them to arbitrary and ardent Commotions; demolishing and depopulating Places, driving People from their Homes, and leading them into Captivity; this may be verifi'd in remote Parts where Armies rage and ravage, and where the sharpest Arguments are unable to turn the Edge of a sharp Sword.

Mars in a fiery Sign, swift in Motion, in Square to Venus, and hastning to the Conjunction of Jupiter, will make many bloody Noses this Summer, both by Sea and Land; 'tis true Venus is strong in the Tenth but she is among the Pleiades, a turbulent Constellation, and in square to Jove, and in a little time comes to a Conjunction with Saturn; it denotes frequent showers of Tears from such as behold and bewail the Troubles and Calamities of the times, and know not how soon a turn of Fate may make it their own Condition: Mars in a fiery Sign signifies Fires among Buildings, fiery Meteors in the Air, or fiery Bombs and fiery Bullets flying to and fro among Men.

The material Aspects to be consider'd, in our general judgment on this Quarter, are the Conjunction of Jove and Mars, July the Ninth; the Conjunction of Mars and Mercury in Square to Saturn, the latter part of July, or beginning of August; the Conjunction of Jove, Sol, and Hermes, in Square to Chronus, the latter part of August, or beginning of September. Virgo and Gemini are the Signs concerned per se, and Pisces and Sagittary per accidens. France, Flanders, Spain and Portugal, are the Countries most subject to their Influence, the Confederates make some notable Efforts against their old Enemy, and do him a considerable displeasure.

Here we have an Infortune again in the Ascendant, as in the vernal Figure, so that not one of the Cardinal Ingresses escapes without an Infortune in an Angle, Saturn in the Ascendant, Stationary to Retrogradation, and in Square to Jove. Venus, and Hermes, signifies much Trouble and Toil in the World, many great Consultations, great Changes and Chances, a deal of Proing and Conning among all sorts of People, Death and Danger

The Sun being now returned to the Equinoctial, makes the Days and Nights again equal, as when in Aries.

From hence we judge the State of the Autumn or Harvest Quarter, according as the Heavens are posited.

surrounds many, both high and low, rich and poor; much News, both good and bad; News-houses crowded with News-mongers; many Embassies and Petitions for Redress of Grievances; two famous Metropolitan Cities much concern'd in the Actions, Transactions, and Accidents signify'd by these Configurations.

The remarkable Aspects in this Quarter are the Square of Saturn and Jupiter, September 24th, the Conjunction of Mars, Sol, Venus, and Mercury in Scorpio, in October; the Sun, Venus, and Mercury in Sagitary, in Opposition to Saturn in November; and the Opposition of Saturn in March to the 7th of December, which will Influence a foul and frigid Air, and produce such material Matters, Military and Civil, as will amuse and amaze many; for notwithstanding the lateness of the Season, very considerable Things will be done in this Quarter, and we hope that much good redounds to the Confederates thereby; and as the Year declines, so does the Power and Hopes of the French, Bavarians, and Frenchify'd Spaniards; nay, we hope that their Hopes are pretty near at an end, and that this rattling Year has rattled their Rags to some purpose. Mars in the 6th, with the Dragon's-Tail, denotes a sickly Autumn, and that many People will precipitate themselves into Mischief by Luxury and Extravagant Courses, while some miscarry for want of such Things as are necessary for their Support.

For

on the Year 1707.

This is a total and visible Eclipse, if Fogs, Mists, or Clouds interpose not, and by that means hinder our having a Sight of it.

However it be, nothing but God can hinder its Effects and Signification, which will be very considerable.

For here we have Mars sole Governour (in a starry Diameter) of the Eclipse, as being Ruler of the preceding Angle, exalted in the Ascendant and Dispositor of the Sun, and also in Trine to Venus, Dispositrix of the Luminary eclipsed. Wars is what that turbulent Planet aims at, and here he is willing to get what Wealth he can by it, as appears by his Aspect to Venus in the 2d House; he's in a watry Sign, and the Eclipse is in the 9th House, which signifies Sea-Action, and considerable Sea-Accidents, tempestuous Storms of Hail, a Corruption of Seeds and Herbs, Dammage to early and later Fruits, and some Disorders about Church-Matters, and Civil Rites.

An Eclipse of the Moon moves Subjects to Sedition, Servants to Disobedience, and Wives to a Disorder against their Husbands, for which they all come by the Lee, and are made suffer for it: Jove in Trine to the Sun, and Sextile to the Moon, seems to be a great Moderator in those Evils.

The latter part of September, and beginning of October, the Sun and Mars transite the place of the Eclipse being then within Orbs of a Conjunction, some notable Business may then abouts be transacted, or some notable Accidents manifested in remote Parts worth Observation, something too will be done on our own Coast, or near Home, that proves very remarkable.

Austria, Alsatia, Sarvoij, Livonia, Lisbon Vienna, are the principal Places signify'd by the Sign the Eclipse is in.

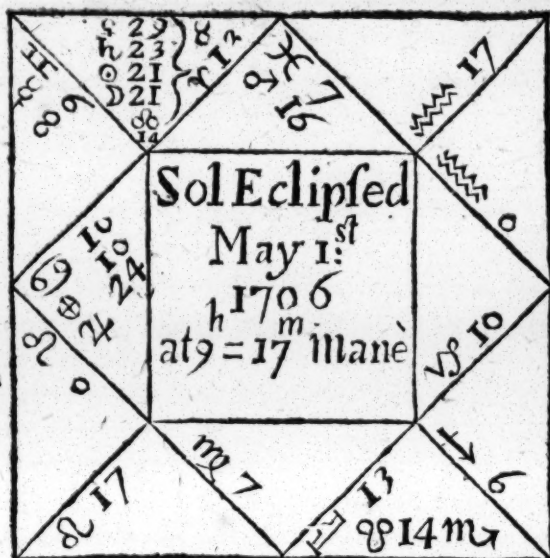

England,

An Astrological Judgment

England, France, Germany, Denmark, the lesser Poland, Naples, Florence, Ferrara, Verona, Brunswick, are the Places pointed at by the opposite Sign, and so much for this Lunar Deliquium.

But seeing we had a great solar Eclipse on May-Day, 1706, the greatest part of whose Effects will be manifested in this very Year 1707, we shall therefore make a little Retrospection into its Signification, being disappointed in making it publick the last Year, as was intended.

This is the Face of Heaven at the middle time of this great Solar Deliquium being about Ten Digits dark,

What remains light, is on the North-side of the Sun's Body, therefore let the Southern Parts look to it.

An Eclipse of the Sun always affects the Nobility, as a Defect of the Moon doth the Mobility. The great Eclipse in September 1699, had its greatest Obscurity on the North-side of the Sun's Body, and the Northern Powers began the Rout; the Danes indeed took but a Jigg of it and gave off; but the Poles, Swedes, and Muscovites have made a set Dance on't.

This Eclipse is in Taurus, an Earthly Sign, and therefore signifies Earthquakes, breaking down of Banks and Mud Walls that are made to keep out Water; damage to Fruit Trees, Corn, and Grass, and as the Sign is Beastial, it damnifies Cattel, especially Oxen and Cows.

Also the Luminaries in Conjunction with Saturn, will tell many doleful Stories of Poverty, Losses and Crosses, Rights and Discontent, Cruelty and hard Usage, tempestuous, dark and dismal Weather.

Jupiter and Mars are Rulers of this Eclipse, as possessing the two prime Angles, and both beholding the Eclipse,

on the Year 1707.

Eclipse with a friendly Ray; and also in a friendly Ray to each other. Jove, we know, is the Preceptor of Goodness, Peace, and Tranquility, and Mars the Patron of Wars and Commotions: Jupiter in the Ascendent will incline the Minds of the People to Moderation and a pacifick Disposition; but Mars in the M. C. will corrupt the Counsels of Grandees, and prompt them to Trouble and Discord: 'Tis the Interest indeed of such as make War their Glory, to discourage all Cessation of Arms and Pacification, and to say with the Poet Lucan,

*Non Pacem petimus superi, date Gentibus iras
Nunc Urbes excite feras, conjuret in arma
Mundus.* —————

*Not Peace, great Jove, do we desire of thee,
But War: We love the slaughtering Sword to see.*

True it is, the three superiour Planets are in friendly Aspect to each other, and there is a great Concilium in the Eleventh House, the House of Hope and Friendship; this will (no doubt) make a noise of Trucing and Treating for Peace and Pacification; but with what Sincerity and Success, we can't well Divine; we wish it may be such as our Enemies get no advantage by, for the Eclipse is in Conjunction with old Chronus, Lord of the Seventh House, and therefore significatour of our publick Enemies, who are here represented implacable and mischievous, tho' now (being necessitated) they put on the Mask of Friendship: Let care be taken that we suffer no surprize of ships in a Road or Harbour; but rather let us endeavour that Disgrace to our Enemies.

This Eclipse is in exact opposition to the French King's Ascendant, and Mars upon the opposite place of his Sun, his Enemies will insult him in earnest, and do him much displeasure both by Sea and Land; nay, more, if in a pet and discontent he makes his Exit: Mourn for him they that will, I shan't make one of that Number; but shall pray with those that wish no worse News may ever come to England.

Nor will his grand Offspring, the French Spaniard, fare much better; nay, perhaps, much worse. The Eclipse also tells the Bavarian Delinquent, he must still expect to remain a French Soldier. To the Saxon-Pole, it bodes bodes little good, it falling in his Eleventh House, in Conjunction with Saturn, significatour of his Enemies, who will divest him of many great Friends, and reduce him to another turn, making good this Assertion of the Poet Juvenal, Si Fortuna volet, fies de Rhetore Consul.

Si volet hæc eadem, fies de Consule Rhetor.

*If Fortune will, poor Rhetorician, she Can raise thee, and thou shalt a Consul be:
And from a Consul, if she will, she can Make thee again a poor Rhetorician.*

Indeed we cannot but pity poor Poland, if we consider this Eclipse in all its Circumstances. for it doth much threaten that miserable Country with more Misery, a great Mortality and sad Desolation; 'twill create Disturbance to the Swiss-Cantons, and make Ireland uneasie; and by its opposite Rays it afflicts Norway, Catalonia, the Kingdom of Fez and Morocco.

It falls in Sextile to no less than four Planets in the brave King of Sweden's Nativity, viz. Jupiter, Venus, Mercury and the Moon; 'twill therefore influence his Affairs well, make him formidable to his Enemies, and still appear a true H E R O.

Of the Triple Conjunction of Saturn and Mars.

Saturn and Mars come to a Conjunction once in two Years, but such a one as this is happens not once in twenty Years, for now they lay no less than five Months within Orbs of each other, and in that time come thrice to a perfect Conjunction once in Gemini, and twice in Taurus. September 1st 1766 in the 4th. Degree of Gemini, near that remarkable fixed Star called Aldebaran, Mars then direct in Motion, and Saturn Stationary for Retrogradation, both having South Latitude, but Mars hath the least, and therefore is somewhat exalted above Saturn. November 21st they join again in the 30th Degree of Taurus, both Retrograde, Saturn having still South Latitude, but Mars is got on the North-side of the Ecliptick, and by that means much exalted above Saturn. January 7th, they come again to their close Order in twenty seven Degrees on the Year 1707.

Degrees of Taurus, Mars direct, and Saturn Stationary for Direction, Mars having now North Latitude, as before, and Saturn yet on the South-side of the Ecliptick, therefore Mars is still exalted in this three fold Congress.

*Blood, Death, and Tragick Stories these do yield,
The flaming Sword, the glittering Spear and Shield,
A stormy Air, and a sickly Season,
Rude Consultations, tending to vile Treason,
Sturdy Debates, that into Question call
The Peoples Laws, yea, even God's and all.*

Let it be minded, that a little after their first Conjunction, they come to the Trine of the Sun, or he comes to their Trine, which you will, it makes no great matter; a little before their second Union they both oppose the Sun, and square Jupiter; at their last close Congress, they are in Trine to the Sun, and square to Jupiter, and so they stand affected in this great Tres-Union, which will be also great in its Effects and Signification.

Hence we shall hear of Treating and Fighting, Fighting and Treating, some rais'd to Honour, and cry'd up for Demi Gods, while others are tumbled down headlong into the very Gulf of Misery and Despair. Rivals will ruffle and exert all their Prowess and Power against each other; nor will they indeed shew much Respect and Civility to each others Party; neither Law, Religion, or Morality will be able to curb the Outrage and exorbitant Efforts of envious and angry Victors; this may be verify'd in Spain, Poland, and other Places, where Regal Authority is in dispute, and where Outrages may be committed cum Privilegio.

'Tis true, we are told by some Scriblers in this Art, that the Conjunction of the two Infortunes makes a Fortune; but this can never be per se, per accidens indeed it may, as the pulling down one is the setting up another, the Death of a Father brings the Son to an Inheritance, and a lusty Thunder-Storm clears and calms the Air that before was thick and troubled.

But if the uniting of the two Infortunes make a Fortune, then let us conclude, That from the Combination of a Turk and an Irish Tory, there may emerge good Christianity. (Vix credo) I rather assent to the late Mr. Gadbury, who on a Conjunction of Saturn and Mars thus verifies.

When

An Astrological Judgment

*When Snakes and Vipers join, we may expect
Not Balsom Issue, but what may infect.
From wicked coupling, such Effects proceed;
When bit by Badgers, then we're sure to bleed.*

Saturn moves Men to Frights and Fears, Fewds and Animosities Jealousie and Suspicion, Spleen and Revenge, dark Air and dark Actions, Penury and Discontent tedious Diseases, Tempests and Shipwracks, mournful and sad Disasters.

Mars stirs Men to Wars, Broils, Sedition, Routs, Rumour, Commotions, the Wrath and Fury of Grantees, sudden and violent Accidents, Fires and Fevers, Thunder and thundring Passions, Drought and dangerous Diseases.

Both together then, stimulates terrible Wars, angry and envious Conspiracies, Rebellions, Uproars, Tumults, Commotions, Rapes, Perjuries, Robberies, Homicides, and barbarous Murders, Violation of Faith, Exiles and Death.

Of the Triple Square of Saturn and Jupiter.

WE are now come to treat of the triple Square of Saturn and Jupiter, the two superior Planets; 'tis a Subject indeed too copious for us to cope with in all its Circumstances, but according to the minute Skill our Genius is befriended with, we shall say something thereof, and that which (as near as we can) shall be secundum Artem.

The first of these Aspects is Nov 14th, 1706. in the first Degree of Gemini and Virgo, Saturn being Retrograde, and going into Taurus; Jupiter Stationary for Retrogradation, going into Leo; Mars in Conjunction with Saturn and square to Jupiter: Retrograde also, and going into Taurus, both Saturn and Mars in Opposition to the Sun, who is also in square to Jupiter; all the Planets about this mighty Congress changing their Signs.

What can be expected from hence, but mighty Revolutions in the World. many Turns and Overturns in Kingdoms, States, and Republicks, change of Governors and Governments, Wars, Rumours of Wars, Tumults and Commotions.

Religion

on the Tear 1707.

Religion will be much upon the Anvil; and many Vulcans hammer it and harraße it according to their different Skill and different Interests; ancient Customs, Rights and Priviledges will be hotly opposed, and as hotly defended against all Innovation and Innovations.

Indeed, the World seems inclin'd to a medly, to a promiscuous and preposterous Posture, some for Paul, some for Apollos, some for Cephas, and the least part of all (we doubt) for Christ.

The Spleen and Gall play their Pranks to purpose, and with their morbid Effluvia disorder the Commonwealth, both of the Body natural, and the Body political, both the Macro and Microcosme feel their Effects; great Things are now in Agitation, greater are in Expectation, and very great will be the result of all in a little time, for the Cælestial Influences we are discouraging on, are such as will move Men to Earnestness and Resolution in what they assay, therefore to hear of the Slipperiness of high Places, of the Frowns and Storms of Grandees, of the Deceit of great Favourites, and the Promptness in Subjects and Servants to Sedition and Section, will be no prodigious News to such Men as on a little ruminate on the Vicissitude of worldly Enjoyments, much less will it amuse those sublime Souls that study the Ordinances of Heaven, that know the Stars were not made to stop Bottles, nor to stand for Cyphers, nor only to give Light upon the Earth, but to be for Signs, and Seasons, and to rule over the Day and Night, that they can in their Courses now, fight against the greatest Potentate, as well as they did against Sisera and the Host of Jabin; and that they can stimulate Earthquakes, Whirl-winds, Hurricanes and Hurlyburles now, as well as they have done in all Ages, Experience continually vouches, let Anti-influence Gentlemen operate their Pleasure: Ay, but some of them are Mathematical Sparks, and they'll demonstrate us out of our Art; even so would Zeno needs give a Demonstration against Motion, whom to refute, Diogenes thought it sufficient to rise off his Seat and walk about the Room before his Eyes.

He that against Experience spits Fallations,
Ought to be hiss'd from learned Disputations.

The

An Astrological Judgment, &c.

The second square of these Planets is January 27th, 1707, in twenty seven Degrees of Taurus and Leo, Jupiter then Retrograde in Leo, and Saturn newly become direct in Taurus, the Sun in a few Days after their Aspect comes to an Opposition of Jupiter and Square of Saturn; this Chimes much to the same Tune of the first Square, and is as much for deposing Grandees and Leading Men, as that; it disturbs his Holiness much, — makes a Racket among his Conclave of Cardinals, and grates his Ears with the Misfortune of his Cardinal-Sons, the most Christian and most Catholick French-men, his Bulls roar like Lions, yet few dread those Bug-bears.

The third Square happens September 24th. 1707. in Eighteen Degrees of Gemini and Virgo, Saturn then Retrograde, and Jupiter direct, the Sun and Mars in plattick Trine to Saturn; here's still more Mischief, though acted with a deal of Subtilty and Reservation, close Consults, Clubs, Cabals, Lampoons, and Libels will abound, a mighty Mercurial War some Places are threatened with; much muttering---- and mutineering, Revolts and Insurrections, Impositions and hard Usage will be much complain'd on; and many Addresses made for Redresses therein; and let me tell you, that from the great Eclipse, the Triple Conjunction of Saturn and Mars, and the triple Square of Saturn and Jupiter; greater and more tremendous Things will ensue in the two Years succeeding than in all our late Wars with France and Spain. And now to conclude,

Let God direct the Affairs of Christian Europe in general, and Great-Britain in particular, with all its Dependants: let the Grand Confederacy proceed and prosper until they have totally subdued their common Disturber, and reduc'd their Dominions to a State of Peace and Tranquility beyond the Power of any Petulant or Pragmatical Prince to disturb; let the Mahometans keep within their Bounds, and not think of molesting the Christians, or if they do, let them be made repent it; Exurgat Deus & dissipentur Inimici. Let Papists not disturb Protestants, and Protestants forbear breaking the Peace of each other; let Relations and Neighbours live in Unity, Peace and Concord, and People keep in Obedience to their Princes, and then all will be well, and the golden Age revived.
